MOUNTAIN VIEW, CA (19 February 2019) — Parents looking for a fun and enriching camp for their artistic offspring can find an outlet on the Peninsula this spring and summer.

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley presents two programs for grades K-6: Spring Camp (April 1-5) and Summer Camp (June 3-August 2). The camps, staged by TheatreWorks Education staff, are chock-full of theatre activities for children and youths. TheatreWorks' Spring Camp is a K-5 spring break camp, hosted at schools in Palo Alto and Menlo Park. These one-week camps (April 1-5) offer fun activities that utilize theatre skills. During Spring Camp, campers will be part of an ensemble that plays, learns, and creates performances together, showing off their creation with a final performance for family and friends at the end of each camp.

For summer break, TheatreWorks Summer Camp for K-6 students offers students a chance to practice acting, music, dance, playwriting, and stagecraft skills in a playful and engaging manner. Participants are instructed by TheatreWorks Teaching Artists, with each session culminating in a performance created by the students. Summer Camp sessions run in two-week increments from June 3-August 2 in Palo Alto, Menlo Park, and Los Altos.

TheatreWorks Silicon Valley's education programs reach 20,000 students each year. These programs include in-school classes that focus on theatre-based arts integration and playwriting, popular summer camps, and the Children's Healing Project, a theatre-based therapeutic arts education program serving hospitalized children and their families with drama workshops and bedside visits at

Lucile Packard Children's Hospital, El Camino Eating Disorders Unit, and the Ronald MacDonald House. TheatreWorks also enjoys a partnership with the Palo Alto Unified School District, the Kennedy Center of Washington, D.C., and Stanford Live for teaching and learning

With some 100,000 patrons per year, TheatreWorks Silicon Valley has captured a national reputation for artistic innovation and integrity, often presenting Bay Area theatregoers with their first look at acclaimed musicals, comedies, and dramas, directed by award-winning local and guest directors, and performed by professional actors cast locally and from across the country.
